Pretty Martha Mitchell, Queen of the Gardenia Festival at the famous Cypress Gardens in Florida, has just put her royal seal of approval on the Chevrolet Convertible Cabriolet—outside car—by purchasing a new one for her own use. Ever willing to oblige by posing for the hundreds of camera fans who consider the Gardenia a means for picture-taking, Queen Martha can now reach location quickly and flood herself with sunshine by rolling back the vacuum-operated top at the touch of a dash button.

Minute Make-Ups
By V. V.

Whether you're purposely tanning, or choose to stay icy white, it's certain that your skin tones are at least a bit warmer than last month. So check the color of your powder again. Either get a slightly deeper shade or mix some darker tint cleverly into your usual powder.

FRANK COLBY

BOCHE

Noun. A French slang name for the German soldier.

During the first World War the term "boche" was widely used by the Allies. The French, especially, applied the name to German soldiers as an epithet of contempt.

It is said that "boche" is an abbreviation of the French word "boche", meaning hard head; hence, the "boche" is a stubborn, hard-headed fellow.

Dictionary differ as to the vowel sound in "boche". It is shown with the long "o" of the "oil" sound of botany, the "aw" sound of hawl, and the "uh" sound of bust: boech, babuh, bawuh, bubuh.

Question: What does dramatic personae mean and how are the words pronounced?

L. Today, dramatic personae is the cast of characters in a play. The word personae originally meant a mask, and the "uh" sound of bust: boech, babuh, bawuh, bubuh.

Correct pronunciation: DRAM-uh-ees
